
Shared Governance in Perilous Times

Greg Scholtz

Associate Secretary and Director

Department of Academic Freedom, Tenure and Governance

Hans-Joerg Tiede

Senior Program Officer and Researcher

Office of the Executive Director

Welcome to Our Webinar

- In this webinar, we will review general principles of shared governance and comment on their applicability in the current pandemic.
- Because of the recent significant increase in interest in our webinars, we are replacing the Q&A portion of the webinar with breakout sessions.
- The sessions will be led tomorrow by members of the AAUP's Committee on College and University Governance.
- The breakout session will be conducted as zoom calls.

Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities

- Since its founding, the AAUP has advocated for meaningful participation of the faculty in institutional decision-making.
- The authoritative formulation of principles of shared governance is set forth in the Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities.
- That statement was jointly formulated with the Association of Governing Boards and the American Council on Education.

Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities

- Is not intended “as a blueprint for governance.”
- Contains principles that can “lead to the correction of existing weaknesses and assist in the establishment of sound structures and procedures.”
- Has been supplemented over the years by a series of derivative policy statements.

Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities

- The relationship between institutional components calls for adequate communication among these components, and full opportunity for appropriate joint planning and effort.
- “Distinction should be observed between the institutional system of communication and the system of responsibility for the making of decisions.”

Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities

Recommends “shared” or “joint” governance because:

“a college or university in which all the components are aware of their interdependence, of the usefulness of communication among themselves, and of the force of joint action will enjoy increased capacity to solve educational problems.”

Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities

Calls for shared responsibility among the different components of institutional government and specifies areas of primary responsibility for governing boards, administrations, and faculties, because:

“The variety and complexity of the tasks performed by institutions of higher education produce an inescapable interdependence among governing board, administration, faculty, students, and others.”

Report of an AAUP Special Committee:

Hurricane Katrina and New Orleans Universities

“However cumbersome faculty consultation may at times be, the importance and value of such participation become even greater in exigent times than in more tranquil times. The imperative that affected faculties be consulted and assume a meaningful role in making critical judgments reflects more than the values of collegiality; given the centrality of university faculties in the mission of their institutions, their meaningful involvement in reviewing and approving measures that vitally affect the welfare of the institution (as well as their own) becomes truly essential at such times. ... [A]n institution cannot be rebuilt on mistrust or worse on a broadly shared sense of betrayal. Action that manifests regard for the faculty’s collective role is essential in order to rebuild commitment and trust.”

Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities

Appropriate joint planning and effort means all components get to participate:

“...important areas of action involve at one time or another the initiating capacity and decision-making participation of all the institutional components...”

Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities

Appropriate joint planning and effort requires participation depending on the degree of responsibility:

“...differences in the weight of each voice, from one point to the next, should be determined by reference to the responsibility of each component for the particular matter at hand...”

On the role of the Governing Board

- Possesses final decision-making authority.
- “The board should undertake appropriate self-limitation.”
- While “maintaining a general overview,” it
 - ✦ entrusts the conduct of administration to the administrative officers.
 - ✦ entrusts the conduct of teaching and research to the faculty.

On the role of the President

- “The president’s work is to plan, to organize, to direct, and to represent.”
- Makes sure there is “effective communication” between components of the institution.
- Ensures that the operation of the institution “conforms to the policies set forth by the governing board and to sound academic practice.”
- Should be “equally qualified” to serve both as the executive officer of the governing board and as the chief academic officer of the institution and the faculty.
- Should have the confidence of the board and the faculty.

On the role of the Faculty

Essentially, the faculty has responsibility (voice and decision-making authority) for matters in proportion to the degree of their expert knowledge. Therefore...

On the role of the Faculty

“The faculty has primary responsibility for such fundamental areas as curriculum, subject matter and methods of instruction, research, faculty status, and those aspects of student life which relate to the educational process.”

On the role of the Faculty

“Faculty status and related matters are primarily a faculty responsibility; this area includes appointments, reappointments, decisions not to reappoint, promotions, the granting of tenure, and dismissal.”

What does “primary responsibility” really mean?

“On these matters the power of review or final decision lodged in the governing board or delegated by it to the president should be exercised adversely only in exceptional circumstances, and for reasons communicated to the faculty. It is desirable that the faculty should, following such communication, have opportunity for further consideration and further transmittal of its views to the president or board.”

What does “primary responsibility” really mean?

In areas of faculty primacy, boards and presidents should “concur with faculty judgment except in rare instances and for compelling reasons which should be stated in detail.”

On Representation and Confidentiality in Governance

- “Faculty representatives should be selected by the faculty according to procedures determined by the faculty.”
- Faculty bodies should establish expectations for conduct of faculty representatives: at a minimum, faculty representatives need to inform their constituents and seek their input.
- The use of confidentiality agreements or mandates as a condition for participation in shared governance is incompatible with serving as a faculty representative.

Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities

In areas where the faculty doesn't have primary responsibility, the faculty still participate in decision-making. These areas include:

- ✓ Long range planning
- ✓ Hiring and evaluation of administrators
- ✓ Physical plant
- ✓ Budget

The Role of the Faculty in Budgetary and Salary Matters

- “The faculty should participate both in the preparation of the total institutional budget and ... in decisions relevant to the further apportioning of its specific fiscal divisions.”
- “[A]n elected representative committee of the faculty [should] participate[] in deciding on the overall allocation of institutional resources and the proportion to be devoted directly to the academic program.”
- “Budgetary decisions directly affecting those areas for which, according to the Statement on Government, the faculty has primary responsibility ... should be made in concert with the faculty.”

Governance Principles and Surveys

- AAUP principles on academic freedom and tenure are highly specific and intended to be adopted with very little variation.
- AAUP principles on shared governance are much more general and expected to be implemented in a variety of ways, depending on size, mission, control, history, etc., of the institution.
- Given the wide variation in governance practices, there has been a longstanding interest in using surveys to investigate these practices.
- Governance surveys can address two different questions: how prevalent are certain kinds of practices and how closely do institutions adhere to AAUP governance principles?

A Hierarchy of Levels of Faculty Participation

- Determination: Determination means that the faculty have final legislative or operational authority.
- Joint Action: Joint action means that formal agreement by both the faculty and other components of the institution is required.
- Consultation: Consultation means that there is a formal procedure which provides a means for the faculty to present its judgment in the form of a recommendation or vote.
- Discussion: Discussion means that there is only an informal expression of opinion from the faculty or from individual faculty members.
- None: None means that there is no faculty participation.

Change in Faculty Role in Institutional Decision-Making

Role of the Faculty in Condition of Financial Exigency

- “There should be early, careful, and meaningful faculty involvement in decisions relating to the reduction of instructional and research programs. The financial conditions that bear on such decisions should not be allowed to obscure the fact that instruction and research constitute the essential reasons for the existence of the university.”
- “Judgments determining where within the overall academic program termination of appointments may occur involve considerations of educational policy, including affirmative action, as well as of faculty status, and should therefore be the primary responsibility of the faculty or of an appropriate faculty body.”

Change in Prevalence of Provisions in Financial Exigency Regulations

2000 2020

The Inclusion in Governance of Faculty Members Holding Contingent Appointments (2012)

- “Institutional policies should define as ‘faculty’ and include in governance bodies at all levels individuals whose appointments consist primarily of teaching or research activities conducted at a professional level.”
- “Eligibility for voting and holding office in institutional governance bodies should be the same for all faculty regardless of full- or part-time status.”

Participation in Governance is...

- ...based on full-time status.
- ...based on rank/tenure.
- ...based on bargaining unit membership.
- ...unrestricted (incl. part-time).

2001 Governance Survey

Misconceptions about governance

- Shared governance is not the idea that all important decisions are put to the entire faculty for a vote.
- Shared Governance is not the idea that a lot of conversation ought to take place within and among various campus groups—board, administration, faculty, staff, students, etc.—before the people in power make the final decision.
- Shared governance is not the idea that each of the various campus groups have exclusive authority over different areas of decision making.

Misconceptions about governance

- Shared governance is not limited faculty participation only when times are good:

“Relevant AAUP-supported policies—most notably those that recognize the special challenge of ‘financial exigency’—are sufficiently broad and flexible to accommodate even the inconceivable disaster. These policies have, in fact, been successfully invoked (as documented through AAUP experience) by institutions in situations that, while perhaps not matching the gravity of those in New Orleans in fall 2005, surpassed in severity those imagined” by the authors of these policies.

Thank You!

<https://www.aaup.org>

<https://twitter.com/aaup>

<https://www.facebook.com/AAUPNational>

<https://academeblog.org/>