FFF GLOBAL CLIMATE STRIKE

Get up and get out on the streets!
What's it all about? #PeopleNotProfit

The basis of our climate emergency is our failed economic systems that drive people and corporations to focus on short-term profit rather than justice and sustainability. We need to point out the greed inherent in the system of extractive industries and fight for meaningful change now.

The struggle for climate justice is part of the ongoing struggle for social and economic justice.

The time for justice is now

What must we do? Organize! Take action—Right now!

Find a strike in your area on the FFF/Action Network map, or organize your own strike and register that on the map. Be there! Use the yellow poster above on social media to spread the word! Politicians and the media tend to notice when we go out into the streets.

What is our goal? CLIMATE REPARATIONS

This is not supposed to be a donation, but the paying back of what has been stolen, giving power back to the Most Affected People and Areas (MAPA).

Trying to do this in the form of loans would defeat the point. We need a long-overdue follow-through on the demands from Indigenous, Black, and diverse marginalized communities to regain their lands, giving resources to the communities most affected by the climate crisis for adaptation, loss and damages – and striving toward a much more equitable redistribution of wealth, technology, information, and political power, both from the north to the south, and from top to bottom.

IT'S UP TO US

We will get out into the streets and we will be heard!
