Here's what you can tell them:

Dear _____,

I fear that gutting the Department of Education would cause millions of students to lose services they need to succeed. There's no need to "return education to the states" because states are already in charge. There are millions of students with disabilities reliant on federal education dollars to ensure they have access to the special education services. Pell grants and Career and Technical Education will be demolished, essentially denying working class families access to fulfill the American dream.

Trump wants to take federal education funding and more than likely provide tax cuts for the wealthiest individuals and businesses. If this happens then states will either be forced to end services or raise taxes on working class communities to maintain them.

This is unacceptable and will have long term effects. We are asking you to stand with students, parents, and educators to fight the attacks on our communities.

Please fight Trump's plan to decimate and dismantle federal education funding!
